

Data at your fingertips

Promoting collaboration and efficient decision-making in the UK through the Integrated Data Service

The IDS is the bridge connecting data infrastructure. It mobilises data linkage, policy and analysis to unlock the value of data.

Benefits

The IDS transforms not only government's use of data, but also trailblazes how statistical insight is produced by academia, the third sector, the wider research community and beyond. All with the ambition of driving efficiency and improving public services. The service is designed to provide some of the following benefits:

Get involved

To find out more about accessing the service, scan the QR code to visit the IDS website.

IDS.customer.support@ons.gov.uk

Informing targeted policy interventions

Enabling decision making

Build trust in statistics

Rapid analysis

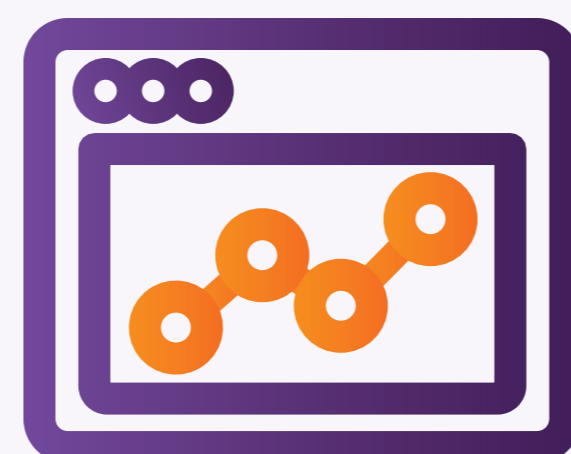

Reducing resource and analytical costs

Volume of linked data assets through the Reference Data Management Framework

Friction-free data access using cloud hosting

Access to analytical and visualisation tools

Promoting a culture of collaboration

Social benefits through better statistical and analytical outputs